Tiger Marching Band brings karaoke to the field

By Katie Johnson,
student news writer

Campbellsville University's Tiger Marching Band, led by Jennifer Tinnell, director of bands/instructor of music, will take to the road on Sept. 18 beginning their recruiting tour to local and surrounding high schools.

Their first performance Saturday, Sept. 18 will take place at the South Central Kentucky Marching Band Classic hosted by Glasgow High School. Nine bands will present their shows in the exhibition followed by the Tiger Marching Band performing "Karaoke Classics" as the finale.

This season's show features Journey's "Don't Stop Believin'", Simon and Garfunkle's "Bridge Over Troubled Waters," Abba's "Dancing Queen" and Michael Jackson's "Thriller" which will showcase the Thriller zombie dance. Tinnell said, "We chose this year's theme because we wanted the music to relate to both the football fans and our high school band audiences."

The Tiger Marching Band's objective, when performing at high schools, is to recruit young band students for Campbellsville University, Tinnell said. There are 90 members in the Tiger Marching Band this year, many of whom became interested in the university because of the recruiting tour.

The Tiger Marching Band will be traveling to four high schools across Kentucky. Three of the four bands have CU alumni as their directors including Stephen Bishop ('04) of Taylor County High School, Corey Bonds ('05, with a master's in 2006) of Glasgow High School and Jamie Smith ('04) of LaRue County High School. According to Tinnell, these directors continue to invite the Campbellsville Tiger Marching Band so they can aid in the recruitment of their alma mater.

The recruiting tour will continue through September and October with performances at Taylor County High School, Sept. 25; LaRue County High School, Oct. 2; and Kentucky Music Educators Association (KMEA) Regionals hosted at Butler County High School, Oct. 23.

Noon Organ Series to feature Clif Cason on Sept. 21

By Katie Johnson,
student news writer

Campbellsville
University's Third
Annual Noon Organ
Recital Series will be featuring organist Clif Cason, director of music/organist at
Maxwell Street

Presbyterian Church in Lexington, Ky., as its first performance of the year Tuesday, Sept. 21 from 12:20 p.m. to 12:50 p.m. in Ransdell Chapel, 401 N. Hoskins Ave., Campbellsville.

Cason's performance will be an all-French program with pieces by composers such as Widor, Vierne, Langlais and Alain. Cason will play on the 1894 Farrand and Votey pipe organ in the chapel, according to Dr. Wesley Roberts, professor of music.

Roberts said the series is designed to "provide an opportunity for those in the community to hear outstanding organists and our prized instrument in short concert programs during their lunch break."

Other performers for the Noon Organ Recital Series this year will include: Mark Dealba, a high school student of Lexington, Oct. 12;

David Doran, professor of music emeritus at Jefferson Community College, Nov. 9; Tim Baker, organist of Harvey Brown Presbyterian Church, March 1; and Dr. Wesley Roberts, professor of music at Campbellsville University, April 19.

In the Spotlight

Budai

Dr. Bill Budai, assistant professor of piano, received the Non-Tenured Faculty Award for his teaching ability and his loyalty and commitment to CU and her students. Dr. Budai and his wife, Marilee, welcomed a new son, Brendan William, on September 12. Brendan was 8 1/2 pounds and 23 3/4 inches long. He has a big sister, Annalynn.

Floyd

Chad Floyd, Assistant Professor of Music, recently received an artist endorsement from Evans Drumheads and is featured as an Evans concert artist on the company's webpage. Floyd will be presenting a hand drum clinic at the Kentucky Collegiate Music Educators Conference in Elizabethtown, KY in September with support from Innovative Percussion and Evans Drumheads.

Hedrick

Dr. David Hedrick was recently promoted to Assistant Professor of Music. He directs the handbell choir and teaches music education courses and applied voice. Dr. Hedrick just completed his 38th season at The Stephen Foster Story, where he is also the musical director.

A new music scholarship established in honor of Dr. Mark Bradley, Professor of Music. The First United Methodist Church, where Dr. Bradley has served as Minister of Music for over 22 years, established the scholarship fund in his honor. If you

Bradley would like to contribute to this scholarship in honor of Dr. Bradley and/or would like to help some deserving music student, please send your funds to the School of Music, 1 University Dr., UPO 792, Campbellsville, Kentucky 42718. Please make checks payable to Campbellsville University with the Bradley Music Scholarship listed on the check.

Moura

Ms. Juliana Moura, a CU alumna, has joined the music faculty this year as Instructor of Voice. Ms. Moura is a native of Brazil and holds masters degrees from Campbellsville University and University of Louisville. She was the first recipient of an apprenticeship in the Young Artist Program with Kentucky Opera where she made her debut as Desdemona in "Otello" due to a illness of the leading soprano. She has worked with Metropolitan Opera conductors and coaches such as Steven Crawford, George Darden, Joe Mechavich, Kelly Kuo, among others. Ms. Moura will perform two important soprano roles at the Rome Festival on Summer 2011 as Mimi in "La Boheme" and Alice in "Falstaff." Ms. Moura will also present a recital at Campbellsville University on Tuesday, Oct. 12 at 8:00 p.m. in the Gheens Recital Hall.

Gaddis

Dr. Robert Gaddis, Dean of the School of Music, was one of three speakers at a conference in Belo Horizonte, Brazil, recently on the topic of Alumni Relations from the Faculty Perspective. Also speaking at this conference was Trent Argo who completed his Bachelor of Music in Church Music and Master of Music in Music Education from CU. Argo also served as Director of Student Recruitment at CU for several years.
