Course Description:

Assessment works in positive ways to benefit learning. With student learning being at the core of the School of Education’s conceptual framework, experiences related to assessment and using assessments effectively to design appropriate responses to student work is crucial to classroom and student success. The purpose of ED 660 is to explore and utilize practical skills in student assessment required for curriculum planning in the classroom and school. Focus areas will include the purpose, scope, development, and implementation of formative assessments and how to use results from assessments in the development of intervention strategies for both individuals and groups of students, and recommended practices for the assessments of diverse learners.

ED 660-01, 02 G6 2019 Formative Assessment

Upon completion of this course, you will have gained an understanding of:

Clinical Hours (100 points)

ED 660 requires six hours of clinical work as described below. Submit a signed clinical hour form and a three page paper reflecting on the following questions.

Read web documents provided in class related to RTI.

Interview a school and/or district RTI consultant. Find out how assessment information is used in making eligibility, program, and placement decisions for students including individuals with disabilities and those students from culturally and/or linguistically diverse backgrounds. Reflect and compare these practices with your own practices and experiences with RTI. If you are currently involved in RTI, reflect on your experiences. What are strengths of your performance? What are areas of growth and specific action steps that you can take to improve your performance as related to RTI.

Formative Assessment Feedback (100 points)

Based on chapter five (cited in proper APA format), discuss the following in a three-page double spaced paper.

- Quality of feedback
- Recipe for providing feedback
- Grading formative assessment
- Practical techniques for providing feedback

Additionally, write one lesson sketch for your unit integrating a formative assessment and expected feedback you will provide

Include a reference page in APA format.

Assessment Design Project (250 points)

More details and a scoring rubric will be provided for this assignment in which you create a unit including at least five formative assessments.

RUBRICS:

All assignments have accompanying rubrics which can be found on the Learning House class website.

Participation in discussion forums includes an initial response to the discussion forum prompt provided by the professor and responding to a minimum of two other classmates' responses per discussion forum. Discussion forums are based on readings for the course and are designed to begin the conversation about the course content for the week. They prepare students for the activities and assignments for the week, so it is crucial for the class that they are completed during the week they are assigned. For this reason, students will not receive credit for discussion forums that are completed late for any reason. When you complete your forums late, not only are you not prepared for class that week, but you are impacting how prepared your fellow classmates are as well. If you choose to put your forums off until the last minute and an emergency arises, an extension will not be granted.

Initial posts are due by Thursday at 11:55 pm. Responses to peers due by 11:55 pm Sunday.

Samples of 4 point initial responses and 3 point responses to peers are available on the course outline. Forum responses will be evaluated using the following criteria:

Plagiarism Policy

Campbellsville University's policy on Academic Integrity states: "Each person has the privilege and responsibility to develop one's learning abilities, knowledge base, and practical skills. We value behavior that leads a student to take credit for one's own academic accomplishments and to give credit to others' contributions to one's course work. These values can be violated by academic dishonesty and fraud." (2015-17 Bulletin Catalog). Plagiarism and cheating are examples of academic dishonesty and fraud and neither will be tolerated in this course. Plagiarism is quoting or paraphrasing a phrase, a sentence, sentences, or significant amounts of text from a web or print source, without using quotation marks and without a citation. The plagiarist submits the work for credit in a class as part of the requirements for that class. Examples of cheating include cheating on a test (copying off someone else's paper) or an assignment (e.g., development of a lesson plan) and submitting the work as your own. If a student commits plagiarism or cheats in this course, the professor will decide on one of two penalties: (a) an F on that assignment or (b) an F in the course. The student's Dean and the Vice- President for Academic Affairs will be notified of either consequence.

Communication Requirement

Students are expected to activate and regularly use the university provided email domain studentname@students.campbellsville.edu) for all email communication for this class.

Disposition Assessment

Dispositions in teacher education preparation refer to behaviors and attributes while interacting on campus, online, and in clinical experiences with students, families, colleagues, communities, and faculty. Such dispositions are necessary to the empowerment for learning process stemming from the unit mission, conceptual framework, state codes of ethics, and national standards. Campbellsville University’s educator preparation program strives to lead candidates in the self- efficacy process of recognizing when their own dispositions shall be developed in the Pre-Professional Growth Plan (PPGP).

Candidates (CU students) will be introduced to the education program’s conceptual framework, which includes disposition expectations in the introductory courses and will also become familiar with and commit to the Codes of Ethics for Professional Educators which delineates behaviors for teachers related to students, parents and colleagues. In addition, candidates must adhere to the CU Computer Resource Acceptable Use Policy that includes posting information, videos, pictures, etc., that infringe on copyright laws or is deemed inappropriate by the mission of CU and the School of Education (p 50, ST Handbook). This includes both on campus and off campus activities. Although the unit has adopted a “Disposition Recommendation” form for general use, it is understood that dispositions are also evaluated during instructional opportunities through field and clinical experiences and regular course opportunities. All disposition data are collected and filed in the student’s School of Education binder.

CU Philosophy of Behavior was founded with the goal of providing a quality education along with Christian values. Learning takes place guided by Christ-like concern and behavior on campus and online. A student whose conduct violates stated behavioral expectations faces specific disciplinary sanctions.

Late Policy

If you turn in late assignments, ten percent will be deducted per day. After two weeks, a permanent 0 will be recorded. Late assignments will not be eligible for grade improvements based on revisions.

Technology Requirements

You must have a working microphone and camera in order to participate in class. You are expected to ask and answer questions to earn class participation point.
