Section III. – Job Description

Job Summary:

The Human Performance Division is seeking to hire an individual to serve as an assistant professor in Health and Physical Education. This will be a tenure-track position with opportunities to serve as the lead professor for the area. The primary responsibilities of this position will be teaching, advising, cultivating partnerships with local schools, student teaching oversight and mentorship, and other duties as assigned by the Chair of Human Performance.

Job Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to teach in both the undergraduate and graduate areas for Health and Physical Education as well as general education courses as needed. Participation in advising, campus service through committee appointments, student teaching oversight, and other duties as assigned.

Skills/Qualifications:

The candidate should have a PhD in Physical Education or Health Education. ABD or master's degree with significant experience may be considered for the position. Experience teaching face to face and online courses in a college setting is valuable as well as experience advising students. The candidate must display leadership qualities and be able to collaborate with other professors in our division and within the School of Education.

Essential Duties:

- Working hours necessary to perform job requirements satisfactorily on a regular basis.
- Managing absences from work in a responsible manner to ensure service to university faculty, staff and students.
- Complying with Campbellsville University policies and practices and seeking clarification of them when necessary.
- Honor the mission of Campbellsville University and abide by rules and regulations and Standards of Conduct outlined in the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual.

Campbellsville University is a comprehensive, Christian institution that offers pre-professional, undergraduate and graduate programs. The university is dedicated to academic excellence solidly grounded in the liberal arts that fosters personal growth, integrity and professional preparation within a caring environment. The university prepares students as Christian servant leaders for life-long learning, continued scholarship, and active participation in a diverse, global society.

The individual employee is expected to conduct him, or herself, both on campus and off, in a manner becoming an employee of a Christian institution, and the employee should uphold the highest standards of conduct in terms of honesty, truthfulness, respectful attitude, and conduct toward others. Each individual associated with Campbellsville University is to perform his or her daily responsibilities mindful of the intent of the institutional mission statement and core values.

Employees must be able to perform the essential functions of the position with or without reasonable accommodations.
